NCBA

Established in March 2008. the North Columbia Business Association (NCBA) provides information and support for the businesses in our area. The NCBA is the central governing body over the business district of North Columbia and has direct communication with city officials and government. This allows our association to work on your behalf, putting area plans into action to further our community. We exist because we want to see our businesses in North Columbia thrive and bridge the relationship between businesses and the community, which we do by letting our members' ideas and concerns be heard. We have our fingers on the pulse of this whole area and the businesses who call it home. We seek to promote and foster a positive business climate for all businesses.

WE BELIEVE

NCBA is a thriving and growing dynamic district whereby business leaders choose to invest and innovate further creating opportunities for the North Columbia area.
